About these data: Total headcount reflects official statistics reported to the U.S. Department of Education through the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS).

Race/ethnicity statistics differ from those reported to IPEDS. Prior to 2010 data for race/ethnicity categories were collected as a single question combining race and ethnicity. In 2010 and later, individuals were asked to report ethnicity (Hispanic/not Hispanic) separately from race, with the potential to indicate more than one race. These tables differ from statistics reported to IPEDS because they display counts of each race or ethnicity indicated by an individual without regard to visa or citizenship status; percentages will add to more than 100 percent in 2010 and later.

Unlike statistics available through IPEDS, the reported race/ethnicity categories of international students are included in counts and percentages. Percent of total uses the total number of students as a denominator. Percent with known race/ethnicity remove students with unknown race/ethnicity from the denominator because changes in the population with unknown race/ethnicity can distort percentages; these statistics are recommended for comparison with data published by the U.S. Census. * Data collection using two-part question begins; percentages total to over 100% in 2010 and later years.

About these data: Total headcount reflects official statistics reported to the U.S. Department of Education through the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS). Race/ethnicity statistics differ from those reported to IPEDS. Prior to 2010 data for race/ethnicity categories were collected as a single question combining race and ethnicity. In 2010 and later, individuals were asked to report ethnicity (Hispanic/not Hispanic) separately from race, with the potential to indicate more than one race. These tables differ from statistics reported to IPEDS because they display counts of each race or ethnicity indicated by an individual without regard to visa or citizenship status; percentages will add to more than 100 percent in 2010 and later. Unlike statistics available through IPEDS, the reported race/ethnicity categories of international students are included in counts and percentages. Percent of total uses the total number of students as a denominator. Percent with known race/ethnicity remove students with unknown race/ethnicity from the denominator because changes in the population with unknown race/ethnicity can distort percentages; these statistics are recommended for comparison with data published by the U.S. Census. * Data collection using two-part question begins; percentages total to over 100% in 2010 and later years.
