

Japan Center at Stony Brook

JCSB Distinguished Lecture

Japan's Legislature and Executive Branch

Kenju Murakami

Director, Japan Information Center
Consul General of Japan in New York

Wednesday, November 17, 2021

2:40 pm – 3:35 pm

Charles B. Wang Center, Lecture Hall 2

The 100th Prime Minister, Mr. KISHIDA Fumio was elected on October 4th and the 49th General Elections took place on October 31st. With issues ranging from the Tokyo 2020 Olympics to the recovery from Coronavirus pandemic, Japanese voters made important choices through ballot boxes. But how exactly does Japan's government work? In an effort to help better understand the Japanese political system, Mr. Murakami will introduce the institutional background of the Japanese legislature, the legislative process, and the role of Japan's bureaucracy.

The Japan Center at Stony Brook
1046 Humanities Building
Stony Brook University
Stony Brook, NY 11794-5343

<http://www.stonybrook.edu/japancenter>

Stony Brook
University